

Leopard over Hounds

AFRICAN
FRONTIER SAFARIS
THE SPIRIT OF AFRICA

WITH COENRAAD
SCHEEPERS

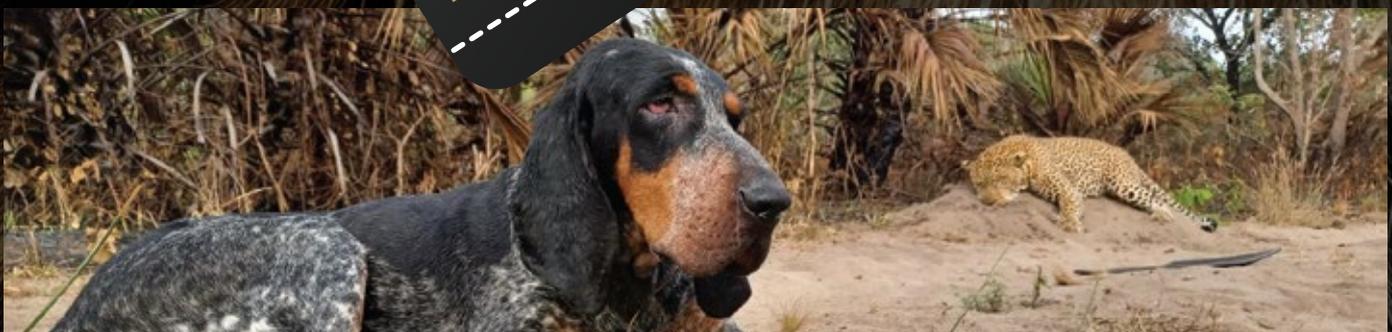

Hunting leopard over hounds with African Frontier Safaris is a completely different level of excitement—worlds apart from traditional bait hunting. There's no waiting in a hide, hoping for movement. Instead, you're in the action from the first step, tracking your leopard through rugged African wilderness.

Working with skilled hounds allows you to pursue a specific, mature leopard—by gender, age, or size—turning the hunt into a focused, intentional pursuit. And once the dogs hit a fresh track, the atmosphere changes instantly. Their chorus of barks, growls, and the surge of energy through the bush sets your adrenaline on fire.

Watching them work—communicating with their handler, reading each other, pushing as a team—is extraordinary. And when the hunt takes place at night, when leopards are most active, the entire bushveld awakens around you. Hyenas whoop, elephants move quietly through the mopane, lions rumble in the distance, and buffalo graze in the dark.

Every sound sharpens the senses. Every shadow matters. It's full immersion in Africa's wild rhythm as you close in on one of the continent's most coveted trophies: the right leopard.

Tracks in the Sand

Everyone leaves them behind. As a hunter I have learned the importance of walking tall and making every step count, for all it takes is one good track to set the pursuit in motion. Step by step, with hounds and trackers by my side, we follow the trail, each print and scent leading us closer to our target. That's the essence of what we do: we chase tracks. Yet in the process, we leave our own behind. My hope is that the tracks we leave tell a story worth following, one of purpose and respect for the journey.

THE SIZE OF AN ADULT MALE LEOPARD TRACK ROUGHLY IS 9 X 9 CM
